LOOKING FOR LUKE!

THE ENTIRE GALAXY IS SEARCHING FOR LUKE SKYWALKER AFTER HE WAS MYSTERIOUSLY LEFT OFF THE NEW STAR WARS™ FILM POSTER! BUT WE USED THE FORCE AND FOUND HIM! CHECK THIS OUT!

In 1976 (ask your mum or dad!) the actor who plays Luke Skywalker in Star Wars™ parts IV, V and VI, Mark Hamill, was in London filming some scenes when he picked up a Beano. He LOVED it!

I'LL NEVER TURN TO THE DARK SIDE!

So much, in fact,
he wanted to become a member of the fan club! To join the club you had to get your letter printed... so he sent one in!

This photo has never EVER been seen outside
The Beano office
before...
UNTIL NOW!

GREAT, KID.
DON'T GET COCKY!

Mark also sent in a photo of himself reading The Beano. The baby is son, Nathan, who's already a Menace at three weeks of age!

HE'S STILL A BEANOMANIAC!

MARK SAID THIS ABOUT THE BEANO ON TWITTER RECENTLY!

PRANKS!

YOU'LL NEED:

- ✓ An egg
- ✓ Salt
- ✓ A needle
- ✓ A rubber
- ✓ A small square of paper

LESSON 77: USE THE FORCE!

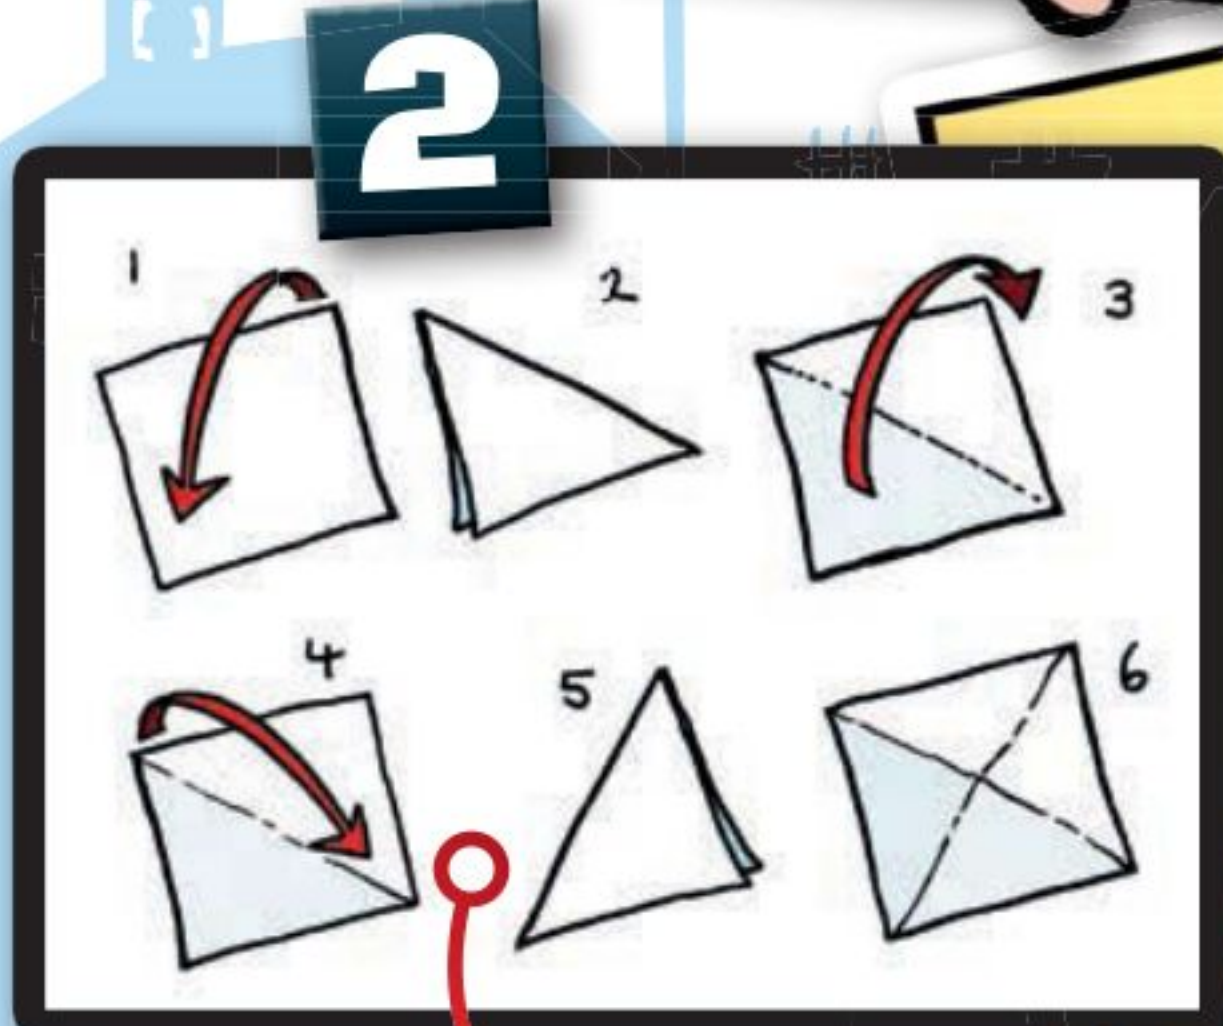

Trick your friends into thinking Darth Vader is YOUR father by showing off your Jedi skills!

It's impossible to balance an egg on its end - unless you're a Jedi! Before you mention the trick, put salt in your hand and wet the bottom of the egg. Rub the egg in the salt so it sticks underneath.

Now wow your mates by balancing it on the table. The salt will help it stand up. If they want to have a go, pick up the egg and rub the salt off before you hand it to them. Do it sneakily so they don't notice.

Pretend to use the Force to move a piece of paper! Fold the paper into triangles so it looks like this picture. Ask an adult to push the needle into the rubber and balance the paper on top.

Now you need to get your hands really warm. Secretly go to the bathroom and run them under the tap or rub your hands together until they're warm enough. Now cup your hands around the paper and it'll start to spin around as if you're moving it with your mind!
